

Ooh one year ago on mountain so far away the sun release the day

Ooh the moon rose high across the starry sky an empty mountain side

Ooh Fire in the night I saw it flash it caught my sight it burned so bright golden burning amber clearly I remember you burned so far away but I could see you bright as day

Ooh Weeks alone hungry & cold that beacon lead me to a tiny cabin in a grove a woman answered and asked me if I'd like to spend the night beside her fire my mind's desire icy cold December clearly I remember the fire in her eyes and the moon high in the midnite sky

Still night fire shroud the witch was silent her heart was loud her eyes were deep and dared me to a state of endless sleep

Who knew the time that passed the shadow's dancing the fire cast the clock chimed 12 upon the wall she reached out through the mystic pall

Dark alone
